Join the Rover / Ranger jamboree in Norway, and gain memories for a lifetime:

SULDAL 2005

1. - 6. August

Who, where and when

SULDAL 2005 jamboree is for guides and scouts born in or before 1988. The camp will be in Eriksmoen, Suldal in Norway from the 1st to the 6th of August 2005.

How and why?

At Norwegian jamborees, we sleep in tents, pioneer our own camp grounds and prepare our meals on an open fire. You will experience the pleasure of basic living in a self contained unit -but of course together with friends.

What to do

Explore the mountains on foot, paddle the river by canoe, rappel yourself down a 90 metres high barrage, do extreme pioneering, compete in the Rover Ranger competition. Experience Norway and make new friends.

About Norway and Suldal

Norway is a sparsely populated country with less than five million inhabitants. The country is worldwide renowned for its beautiful scenery with fjords, midnight sun and the northern lights. Suldal is located in the southwestern part of the country, and offers expansive mountains and fertile valleys.

Practical information

The participation fee for the jamboree is approx. 130 to 150 €. This includes meals, fire woods and camp activities. Travelling expenses not included. Bring your own tents and camp equipment, or contact us for alternative arrangements.
